

Free membership of IOBC Global

Persons living in one of the following countries are entitled to obtain a free membership of IOBC Global. The conditions for free membership are that (1) you provide IOBC Global with information about the history, current situation and biological control/IPM projects in your home country and that (2) you will assist the IOBC Biological Control Information Service when questions about research or application of biological control about your home country are asked. Those, whose income allows for a normal membership are asked not to apply for free membership.
